

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background of the Study

In the work our lifePeople with obsession may find themselves acting in compulsive ways in largely futile attempts to relieve the anxiety associated with their persistent, unpleasant thoughts. Obsession are defined as intrusive, “repetitive thought, images or impulses that are unacceptable and or unwanted and give rise to subjective resistance. The necessary and sufficient conditional are intrusiveness, internal attribution, unwanted and difficulty of control” (Ranchman & Hodgson 1997:251)

An obsession is an uncontrollable and persistent idea, thought, image, or emotion that a person cannot help thinking even though it creates significant distress.

A novel is a fiction piece of prose that is typically written in a narrative style and presented as a bound book. Novels tell stories, which are usually defined as a series of events described in a sequence. The novel has been a part of human culture for over a thousand years, although its origins are somewhat debated. Regardless of how it began, the novel has risen to prominence and remained one of the most popular and treasured examples of human culture and writing. Its form and presentation tends to change with the times, but it remains an essential part of the literary cultures of nearly all societies around the world.

In this study the researcher tries to analyze the conflicts which happened to the characters in each of scene of this novel. The writer tries to research Nobody's baby but mine novel. Nobody Baby but mine is a story of women that obsessed to have a baby. Hopefully, from this study both of the reader and the audiences get knowledge about the conflict in the story, the role spouses, and the most important that is the researcher the shape of obsession to get children.

Nobody's Baby but Mine is a 1998 America novel with experiment element writer by Susan Elizabeth Phillips. The novel told a fiction story. The novel chronicles about obsession someone that agree become candidate want date to baby father. The main characters in this novel try to obsession to get children. Her very obsession to baby in life but she only baby mine with not married PhysicsProfessor Dr. JaneDarlington. Shewantsbaby, but notahusband. jane obsession do anything to geta baby.

Susan Elizabeth Phillips was born on December 11 in Cincinnati, Ohio (U.S.A.) to John Aller Titus and Louesa Coate Titus. After receiving a B.F.A. In 1976, the family moved from Ohio to New Jersey, where Phillips became best friends with her neighbor Claire Lefkowitz. Phillips and Claire often discussed the books they liked to read, and one day decided to write a book together. After several months, they came up with a system for collaborating on a historical romance. Their book, The Copeland Bride, was purchased by the first editor to read it, and was published in 1983 under the pen name Justine Cole.

Phillips found that she really enjoyed writing. Claire and her family moved shortly thereafter, and Phillips had to learn to write a story by herself. She was successful, and her subsequent novels, published under her own name, have reached the USA Today and New York Times bestseller lists. She is the only five-time winner of the Romance Writers of America Favorite Book of the Year Award. In 2001, Phillips was inducted into the Romance Writers Hall of Fame and in 2006 was a recipient of the Romance Writers of America's Lifetime Achievement Award.
