Social Phenomena:

People in Indonesia:
KEEP SMILE
In many different situations
Positive (achievement, success, togetherness), and Negative (sad, stress, doing a wrong thing)

Research Questions:

I. In your life, please list 2 events that made you very happy.
   1. __________
   2. __________

II. Please write down the number that made you most happy? (   )
III. Why did the event make you very happy?
IV. Were there any difficulties and problems you had to overcome?
V. Was there a person who supported you and made you happy?
   If so, please specify your relationship to the person.
VI. Specifically, what did the person do to help you and make you happy?

Approach:
Indigenous Psychology
Positive Psychology
The Aim of the research:
- Understand Happiness, Sadness, Anger (Positive and Negative emotion) in local context, Indonesia.
467 students (senior high schools).

Research Result:
Integrated Categorization, First Question of the Open Ended Questionnaire.
Please write down the events that made you most happy?

Process:
Qualitative: Data Text, Find Key Words, Broad Categorization, Integrated Categorization, Coding, Entry the Number-Code into Data Statistic (Number/Quantitative), Doing Statistical Analysis.

Discussion: Indonesian Uniqueness
- Spiritual Experiences
- Togetherness,
  Javanese Concept: “mangan ora mangan anggere kumpul”
  It doesn’t matter we don’t have any food
  As long as we gather
  “Collectivistic culture”