

CHAPTER V

In this section, the conclusions that have been compiled by the researcher contain conclusions and also an explanation of the previous chapters.

In the last chapter in the first study contains the results and conclusions obtained by the researcher, the second is suggestions for readers and further researchers to gain knowledge and also collect data for further research, besides containing suggestions it also contains implications for lecturers, for other researchers and also for the community.

A. Conclusion

After examining the story from Nicholas Sparks' The Notebook, the researcher can provide conclusions about how an Arranged Married can be drawn through aspects of the sociological approach.

The first is, The Factor causes arranged married on finding that part. Researchers have discovered what factors cause an Arranged Married to occur in a particular area or place. Then the results that have been found by researchers are the factors of Social Organization, Social organization itself which means "relationship between one group and another" in this section there is a more specific definition, namely social class. The social class which is the main factor of Arranged Married can occur The social class itself is a group and layers of society that gather into a group based on position, profession, and family title in a certain environment. The social class itself has even been created centuries ago which aims to expand certain group relations. Every part of the upper social class or aristocrats is not allowed to marry the middle or lower class social groups as if this rule had been created long ago. Not only marriage but social relations and interactions between different classes are also limited. These principles and culture which finally happened even now still often occur in a certain area.

Secondly, the Indicator of Arranged Married is what are the instructions that are described and explained based on the situation and also the conditions depicted so that it can be called Arranged Married. In this section, the researcher has quoted every conversation or implied feeling which is an indicator or hint of Arranged Married. In the indicator part of Arranged Married, it can be seen from the response of the mother to the relationship between Allie and Noah. It is very clear how Allie's mother dislikes Noah. Another indicator as well as another clue is how Allie's family comes from a well-respected family who is only willing to marry off their child to a family from the upper class.

The third is Arranged married described in the novel. The arranged marriage described and also described in the novel by Nicholas Sparks is how a woman born into an upper-class family falls in love with a young man who comes from a lower class but is separated by his family because of differences in social status between the two young men who fall in love with each other. Both of them cannot forget their feelings for each other, the mother hides all the letters sent by the young man who wants to reconnect with the woman he loves. The woman's parents separate the two and let their daughter love a man who is considered to have the same level as the main female character's family who comes from the upper class.

B. Pedagogical Implication

The aims of the result of research papers are;

- a. Based on the material as well as data for other researchers in the future, The notebook is a novel full of love and emotion, the next researchers can examine many things that may be more interesting and more intense.
- b. The study of this research can be useful for lecturers who teach literature material. In this material, there are many theories about literature in depth which are also useful to add knowledge about the history of how arranged marriage can happen to be explained to college students.
- c. For social, researchers hope that as a child and for each child to better understand every action taken by parents not only for their benefits but also for the happiness of each child and to make their children happy. There are no parents who have bad intentions and want to plunge their children into this world.

C. Suggestions

In the research that has been carried out by researchers, there are some lessons that we might be able to learn. Among them are that after all, every suggestion and whatever parents do to our lives is something that they think is the best thing they have done for us children. in the present and the future. The researcher hopes that the next researchers can get more previous theories and also examine more deeply emotionally about the feelings of each character.

Researchers also hope that other researchers can analyze more broadly about the meaning of literary culture in a deeper and more complex way.

This research can be of benefit to readers and can also be a new source of knowledge for readers and other students who want to research in addition to being a new science. Hopefully, this knowledge can add data and also add information for future researchers.
